Although this year indeed has been challenging for each one of us in some way or the other but the zeal to deliver my best to my students was not compromised. I am incredibly overjoyed with the outstanding result of my students yet again this year. And I look forward to making it even better in the upcoming term.

When I came to know that the results are out I was very anxious to know about Economics results then later when it was shared I was overwhelmed to see that even with online classes my students managed to score very well....I can't still believe that few students whom I thought would score a C have score B and A. Congratulations !!
